HOW ABOUT THOSE GREAT EUROGAMES: MANY THANKS FOR YOUR PARTICIPATION!

A cordial "Grüß Gott" from Munich to all the athletes, spectators, friends and interested parties all over the world.

The EuroGames came to an end a couple of days ago, and normality is slowly creeping back into our lives. During the last weekend in July we witnessed some fantastic EuroGames under glorious weather. Some 5,300 athletes competed for gold, silver and bronze, and made the largest EuroGames to date a very special event indeed. Over 20,000 spectators provided a fitting setting for the mammoth spectacle.

All of us volunteers would like to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for coming here and taking part in the IXth EuroGames in Munich. For us it was an extraordinary week, where we all gave it our best shot. We'd be pleased as punch if we might have given you a couple of unforgettable days.

On our home page you'll find the latest news, a picture gallery and the competition results. We're working hard to upload all the info, pictures and stats and providing a complete summary. A regular hit is more than worth it. www.eurogames.info/2004

We've also set up a guest book where you can give us your opinion, regardless of whether it's praise or criticism. You can also locate your new friends whose e-mail addresses you might have misplaced, or perhaps write to us if you've lost one of your possessions. We've set up a lost and found box in our office, where we store everything people turned in to us, from a lost ID to a training jacket all the way to somebody's car keys. If you're missing something, just drop a note to: support2004@eurogames.info

IN CONCLUSION

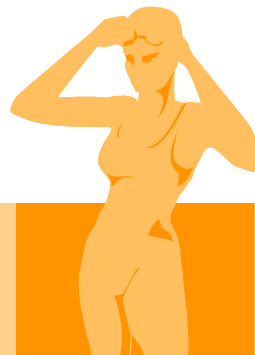

... all that remains for us to say is: many, many thanks for being a part of the EuroGames in Munich. You helped us make these games into an unforgettable highlight in the year of 2004. Munich is proud and happy that we could put on the EuroGames and welcome you as guests and athletes.

Anyone who'd like to pay another visit to Munich will soon have a golden opportunity to do just that, and help a good cause in the bargain:

On Sunday, September 12 at 2:00 pm, Mayor Christian Ude (the man from the La-Ola Wave) will be firing the starting gun for the "Run for Life", the benefit race for the Munich AIDS Fund. You can get further information soon at: www.runforlife.de

All of us here in Munich are excited about the summer of 2005 and look forward to getting together again in Utrecht.
